Villa tra le Torri is a charming 1960s Mediterranean-style mansion with vaulted ceilings and large outdoor verandas carved out under arches, bordered by masonry sofas. The villa, inspired by the sober lines of Salento's rural masserias, is nestled in a 5,000-square-meter pine forest just 30 meters from a beautiful free white-sand beach (you only have to cross the road) and 500 meters from some well-equipped bathing facilities.

The Villa is furnished with antique wrought-iron beds and chandeliers, custom-made furniture, wicker sofas and armchairs, wooden deck chairs, local ceramic plates and bowls, baskets, locally made copper and iron objects. It is the ideal solution for families or groups of friends who want to indulge in a relaxing vacation surrounded by greenery, enjoying the colors and beauty of the white beaches of the Apulian Adriatic coast.

NEARBY

Torre Specchia Ruggeri stands between the Cesine natural area (WWF Oasis) and San Foca. At 3 km, San Foca, is a picturesque and ancient town with a small fishing port. At 4 km. lies Roca Vecchia (formerly a flourishing Messapic town, excavations have revealed an impressive system of fortifications dating as far back as the Bronze Age), an ancient and typical seaside resort with a Saracen tower. Right next to the Messapic excavations is the famous Grotta della Poesia, defined by National Geographics as one of the 10 most beautiful natural pools in the world. At 10 km you can go to discover Torre dell'Orso, one of the Salento people's favorite beaches. Twenty-two kilometers away is Lecce, the city of baroque embroidered in docile Lecce limestone. Just 30 km away is the beautiful Otranto, a delightful hamlet overlooking the sea with its distinctive castle home to exhibitions and cultural events. 7km away is a charming village, Acaya, with a fortified medieval castle as well as a settlement.
